

EU/ME discussion forum is now on LinkedIn

Written by Marc Sevaux

Friday, 06 May 2011 12:11 - Last Updated Monday, 23 May 2011 13:38

The EU/ME web site had a discussion forum in the past, but before the change to this new web site, we had been hacked too many times to be able to maintain the discussion forum open. In the past months, we had decided to create a EU/ME group on Linkeln . Many members positively answered to this request, joining the LinkedIn group immediately. The format on LinkedIn seems to be very appropriate to any kind of discussions, so please do not hesitate to share any metaheuristics information on it. Longer type of information can still be put as an article here or sent to the EU/MEbers with the mailing list.

How can you help?

Technically

EU/ME is always seeking for some people to help. We are trying to get this web site and the EU/Me group on LinkedIn more and more connected together. If you are an expert in handling information via RSS feeds on LinkedIn, please contact Marc Sevaux to help keeping all members informed as much as possible.

Contributing

It is very simple to write an article on the EU/ME web site. Just clic on "Submit an Article" and fill in the associated form. Don't forget to choose the category below.

Discussion

To start a discussion, go to LinkedIn , fill the small box with your discussion and clic on the "Share" button.